O God whose secret is with the reverent and humble soul, save us from intellectual pride and the weakness of a selfish judgment. Cause us to see things as they are and not merely as they affect ourselves. Help us to have a wise and modest estimate of our own power and live in full contact with all things high and true and good. Teach us our failings and faults, give us courage to acknowledge them and by Thy grace enable us to overcome them. Lift us above the unstable currents of our self-will; and establish us on the rock of Thy purposes. Be to each of us our guide and stay. If the way be rough, may we put our hand in Thine and cast away all fear. If the shadows deepen, may our trust grow deeper still. When we are tired and troubled, comfort us as Thou alone knowest. May Thy Spirit dwell in us more and more, that the peace of God which passeth all understanding may keep our hearts and minds. Amen.
